The Bylley says Mr. Powderly is for a high tarif. And it says that Mr. Powderly says that Mr. and it says that Mr. Powderly says that Mr. Blaine is "like greatest Irond on earlih." Now as both these distinguished gentlemen stand on the same pistform, will the "wind-jammer" piesse reconcile its statements—Republican Enterprise.

Easy enough. Aren't you aware that Mr. Blaine can be for high tariff and at the same time be 'the greatest fraud on earth?" We know of some great big "frands" wha are fighting for high tariff. Although both stand on the same platform, that couldn't necessarily prevent Mr. Powderly from making the statement referred to. Powderly evidently knows a gentline fraud when he sees him.

Tits entertainment by the First Presbyterian Sunday school last evening was one of the pleasant events of the week.
The basement room of the church was crowded by an audience who listened attentively to the exercises. The programme was made up of dialogues and reclations, participated in by the pupils of the school. One of the most pleasant and enjoyable features of the evening was the musical selections rendered by the Misses Hays, Dr. Strode, Meesrs. J.
F. Barbour, R. A. Cochran, Jr., and T.
L. Holton. The enterrainment will be followed by another of a like character
